

Kneisel Hall Chamber Music Festival New Backstage Building Blue Hill, Maine

Starting in the summer of 2008 Kneisel Hall Chamber Music Festival has a new building to support the concert space, Faculty Hall. The new construction replaces an outdated building. Although humble in appearance and construction this building performs at a high level; it houses two sound proofed practice studios, a sound proofed green room, facilities for public and performers use and a booth to record performances.

The building meshes nicely with the existing structures on campus and functions equal to the world class performers that use it.
